

Anna Samorukova
Consultant

“I enjoy this quote from Knute Rockne: ‘One player practicing sportsmanship is far better than 50 preaching it.’ ”

– Anna Samorukova, Consultant, TRI Corporation

Leadership/Industry Expertise

Anna Samorukova is a Consultant with TRI Corporation. She has delivered corporate experiential leadership programs and business simulations since 2000. Anna founded Edelweiss Group specializing in training and consulting in the area of financial management and financial modeling and has worked with businesses in various industries.

Clients

Anna's work with TRI Corporation includes programs for General Electric (GE), Praxair, Stanley Works, Boeing, Goldman Sachs, Electronic Arts, Agilent Technologies, Analog Devices, Unilever and KLA-Tencor.

Bio

Prior to starting her own consulting practice in 1998, Anna worked as Director of Finance at SGA Inc., a boutique management consulting and training company in New Canaan, Connecticut.

Positions Held

- Founder, Edelweiss Group
- Director of Finance, SGA Inc.

Accomplishments & Awards

- Specializes in training and consulting in financial management and modeling across multiple industries
- Member of the Board of Directors, Southern Connecticut Chapter, American Society for Training & Development (ASTD)

Education

- MBA, with focus in Finance and International Business, Fairfield University
- Bachelor of Science in Economics, St. Petersburg Institute of Trade and Economics, St. Petersburg, Russia

Personal

Anna enjoys swimming and spending time outdoors with her husband, Andrey, and daughter, Anastassia.